

AGREE TO DISAGREE

INTRO

Hi Steve!

Oh, hey! How's it going?

Great. Whatcha doing?

I'm just working on this new song. Hey, would you be willing to help me out? I could really use a hand on this one.

Sure! I'd be happy to. Let's see, it sounds like it's in the key of E ♭ right?

Actually it's in D# to be precise.

I have to disagree. That definitely sounds like E ♭ to me

Oh, I didn't mean to upset you. If you don't have to work on the song if you don't want to...

No, no, I'm happy to help. Just because we don't agree, doesn't mean we can't work together.

Really?

Sure, for example...

VERSE 1

When I write a song, I write the lyrics first

I write the music, and then I write the words

I always write in pencil

I only use a pen

But it's not written anywhere we can't be friends

PRECHORUS

Cause I like play things by ear

You should always have a plan

I like to go to parties

I'd rather hang out with a friend

Cats

Dogs

Car

Truck

Yankees

Mets

(both) We'll find harmony yet

CHORUS

(both) It's OK if we disagree

Doesn't mean the end of you and me

We're gonna work it out you see

We'll be alright because we

Can agree to disagree

VERSE 2

I am so happy you're that willing to help me out even though we don't agree on everything

No problem. I think we work together like peanut butter and jelly.

I disagree. I think we work together like macaroni and cheese.

Oooh, I'm hungry. Let's get some Thai food. It's my favorite

Well, pizza's mine, but I don't like the crusts.

I'll take 'em if you don't mind.

Then we could listen to some bluegrass music. Oh, it's the best.

I'm into experimental Icelandic jazz

Really?

You bet!

PRECHORUS

We should go hike in the mountains

I want to take a walk on the beach

Then watch a scary movie

I prefer comedies

Football

Soccer

Checkers

Chess

Freeze tag

Hide and seek

(both) We're gonna find harmony!

CHORUS

(both) It's OK if we disagree

Doesn't mean the end of you and me

We're gonna work it out you see

We'll be alright because we

Can agree to disagree

VERSE 3

You know, I think I understand now.

You do?

Yeah, it's like, I say "tomato".

Well, I say that too. What else would you call it?

"To-mah-to"

Really?

Well, some people do.

Tomato, To-mah-to

It's all just talk.

(both) It doesn't mean we have to call the whole thing off!

PRECHORUS

Cause I like to sit in the front row

The back is just fine with me

The early bird gets the worm

I'm a night owl you see

Coffee?

Tea

Cake?

Pie

(both) ...with chocolate chip ice cream!

I knew that we'd find harmony!

CHORUS

(both) It's OK if we disagree

Doesn't mean the end of you and me

We're gonna work it out you see

We can find harmony

And we're still friends, you and me

And we'll be alright because we

(both) Can agree to disagree

EXTRO (BANTER)

Thank you so much for helping out with my song

No problem. I'm happy to do it. So how do you think you're gonna end the song?

Hmmm, I hadn't thought of that. Maybe I'll just end it suddenly like a surprise. That would be a good ending huh?

I disagree. I think that you should end it with a big long drum solo.

I don't know. That doesn't sound right either. What do you think about just fading the volume down slowly?

A fade out! That's a really good idea! I think you should do that.

Perfect! We're in agreement then. We will fade the song down slowly. That probably means we should stop talking right?

Oh yeah. You don't want to be talking during a fade out. That would be kind of weird.

OK then, we'll stop talking, and we'll let the music just slowly fade down on it's own.

Agreed. No more talking, it's going to be instrumental from here to the end, and we'll just fade out very quietly and smoothly