

Dandelion (haiku)

Steve Weeks' new album

Is it a flower or weed?

... a dandelion!

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Steve Weeks' New Kids/Family CD Pops Up in Your Yard

Colorado Springs, CO - The moment you put the album Dandelion on to play, you'll recognize it as the work of award-winning musician Steve Weeks. You'll hear the familiar warm vocals and acoustic guitar work. You'll hear the clever wordplay and storytelling that have been likened to the Barenaked Ladies. You'll hear the eclectic instrumentation and musical exploration. You'll hear reggae and banjos. You'll hear pennywhistles, djembes, and ukuleles. You'll hear tin cans.

Steve has already made his mark on the national music scene with 3 critically acclaimed CDs, multiple #1 hits on Sirius XM satellite radio channel 116 (Kids Place Live), and a first place award in the USA Songwriting Competition children's music category. His new album Dandelion is a welcome addition to an anthology that many kids have grown up singing.

From the very beginning, Dandelion puts the listener in a comfortable place and the acoustic guitar front-and-center. Fans of Steve's previous hits "Kiki Kangaroo" and "Someday" will love the title track, a plea from a dandelion who just wants to be considered a flower, not a weed.

As the songs move through bluegrass, rock, folk-hop, and reggae, they weave whimsical stories and tall tales. You'll learn about a dog named Buddy and his separation anxiety. You'll discover that Steve accidentally caused the legendary Blizzard of '78. You'll meet a kid named Bartleby Finkleton who refuses to bathe, and the rapid-fire list of birds in "Birdsong" will leave your head spinning.

With all the whimsy and warmth that you've come to expect from a Steve Weeks album, Dandelion is like a pretty weed, and it will "add a little color to an ordinary yard".

"Steve Weeks is a master crafting songs that weave fantastical stories you can somehow see through your ears."

REVIEWS ABOUT STEVE

"...honest, well-crafted songs that appeal to kids, parents... and anyone who doesn't mind having a pleasant melody bouncing around in their head for a day or two. ...This is simple, elegant songwriting with a heavy dose of whimsy."

- Kenny Curtis (Sirius XM Radio)

"He is simply, a great songwriter and storyteller, with a warm voice and solid production values. With clever jokes, word play, varied instrumentation, and evocative vocals, the music puts me in mind of Barenaked Ladies."

- Bill Childs (Minnesota Parent)

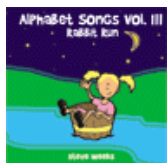

"up-tempo music, full of catchy beats and with a lot of clever wordplay and fun stories."

- Melissa Block (NPR)
